BOILER LETS GO

Causing Death and Destruction at State University.

Prof. Vernon H. Davis Among Those Slightly Injured.

Engineer Charles Pepper Hurlled Long Distance and Was Instantly Killed—Boys Were Operating Corn Husking Machine at University.

Columbus, O., Nov. 6.—By the explosion of the boiler of a portable engine operating a corn husking machine on the Ohio State university farm near the new veterinary hospital about 9:30 this morning, Engineer Chas. W. Pepper was blown one hundred feet and not instant death. He was badly mangled and scalded. His assistant, Kilgarnier, was scalded and otherwise injured so severely that death is only a matter of time. Vernon H. Davis, professor in the department of horticulture, who was feeding the husking machine at the time, was struck by the machinery which was overturned by the force of the explosion. He was bruised about the hands but was not dangerously injured.

The following were injured by the explosion:

Edgar Burt, scratched and bruised.
N. E. Shaw, scratched and shocked.
George Denny, janitor, shocked and bruised.
Sherman Hawley, teamster, shocked and bruised.
Mrs. Mariens, of Woodruff avenue, slightly hurt.
H. P. Sheppard, spectator, slightly injured.
John Bennett, student, slightly injured.

The explosion made a terrific noise and hundreds of students fairly swarmed out of the surrounding buildings.

and were quickly engaged in helping the injured. The utmost excitement prevailed. The accident has cast a gloom over the entire university today. The dead engineer was a valuable employee whose loss will be keenly felt by many. When the boiler, a 10 horse power engine, carrying about 60 pounds of steam, let go due no doubt to a defect, pieces of iron flew through the air long distances. One big chunk was hurled over 100 yards clear through a barn.

Pittsburg Explosion.

Pittsburg, Pa., Nov. 6.—An explosion of oil occurred at the Pennsylvania round house, Twenty-eighth street and Liberty avenue, this morning. Two persons were so badly burned that they died soon after the accident.

The dead:

Win. R. Skiles, 17 years old, machinist's helper.
Stewart Bret, machinist.

Bret and Skiles, carrying torches, went under an engine in the round house to test an oil leak. Immediately there was a violent explosion and burning oil was sent flying in all directions over the clothing of the men. How the accident occurred is not yet known, but it is thought that the jack exploded. The bodies of the victims were removed to the morgue. Bret's home is unknown. Skiles lived with his father in the east end.

CONGRESS

Will Convene in Extra Session Next Monday, November 9—Cuban Reciprocity.

Washington, Nov. 6.—At 12 o'clock at noon next Monday, when the House and Senate meet in extraordinary session of the 58th Congress, the first steps looking to enactment of legislation necessary to put into effect the reciprocity treaty with Cuba will have been taken. The opening day will be devoted to routine.

Big Works Closed.

Bucyrus, O., Nov. 6.—The Wheel combine, known as the Vehicle Wheel Club, a combination of all the wheel manufacturers of the west, has closed the big works of the Flickinger Wheel company of Galion, the combine having bought the machinery and leased the plant for three years. The Flickinger company was one of the largest concerns of the kind in the country and had a capacity of over 500 sets of buggy wheels per day.

George Vanderbilt's estate, Biltmore is already the largest body of contiguous land under one ownership in North Carolina. Nevertheless he is still adding to it.

TAMMANY JUBILANT

Over the Great Victory of Tuesday—New Mayor Will Have No Kitchen Cabinet—Murphy, the New Leader Will Have Great Prestige.

New York, Nov. 6.—Colonel George B. McClellan, elected mayor of New York by a large majority, takes his laurels calmly. Tammany Hall is jubilant, for on January 1 next it will again be in control of the city's affairs. Colonel McClellan, who confesses that he is "a partisan to the backbone," will undoubtedly choose his official subordinates and advisers from the ranks of the regular Democracy, yet there will be no kitchen cabinet. There will be no repetition of the court of the favored, such as was held at Lakewood when Van Wyck was elected, and when political plums were apportioned out by Richard Croker and his lieutenants to the faithful and the district leaders.

MCClellan, however, is not the only big figure resulting from the victory. Charles F. Murphy, the Tammany leader, has become in a night a Democratic chief of national importance. Although only 45 years old, his bold management of Tammany's campaign, his apparently reckless invasion of Brooklyn and the fulfillment of his prophecy of Democratic victory when, to nearly every other Democratic leader in the city the prospects seemed perilous, have made him absolute master of the party machinery in all the five boroughs of the city.

Mr. Murphy's victory means the eclipse of Hugh McLaughlin, who for nearly fifty years has been the dictator of the Brooklyn Democratic organization.

In some quarters it is claimed that Tammany's victory puts Cleveland logically before the public as a candidate for the presidency, and a boom for him which will be irresistible in Democratic circles. If Murphy had the naming of the next Democratic nominee he undoubtedly would nominate the man who twice has held the high office.

GOVERNMENT NOW HAS THE BRAVES

Cheyenne, Wyo., Nov. 6.—The request of Governor Chatterton on the federal government for the return of nine Indians who were captured near Edgemoor, S. D., has been complied with and the prisoners were turned over to Sheriff McDermott and posse at Crawford.

They will be charged with murdering Sheriff Miller and Deputy Falkenburg. This step followed a series of dispatches in which the federal Indian authorities and the state authorities clashed in regard to the question of right to deal with the punishment of the redskins.

DETECTIVE

Entrapped in a Scheme to Assault and Rob a Rich Merchant of New York City.

New York, Nov. 6.—An alleged plot which might have resulted in the death of Samuel Lewis, a rich clothing manufacturer on Mercer street, has been disclosed by information that reached District Attorney Jerome a few days ago.

Edward Devau, employee of a private detective agency, said to be a native of Nova Scotia, is under arrest on charges of attempt to commit grand larceny and assault and robbery. Miss Ella Bagan, a handsome young stenographer, is also in the hands of the police charged with having knowledge of the plot.

Several days ago Walter Nelson called upon the District Attorney and declared he had information of a plot to rob Mr. Lewis. Nelson said he was employed by a private detective concern, and that Devau, a clerk in the office, had tried to hire him to assault Lewis. It was arranged that Nelson should accept the proposition and one of the county detectives was to enter the Mercer street building, where Mr. Lewis was to be assaulted and robbed, while Devau remained outside to watch.

Other police agents were secreted in the building opposite and when Devau had taken his post he was arrested. He refused to discuss the affair. Nelson asserts that several other schemes were talked of including the holding up of a Standard Oil company paymaster.

SUSAN EXPLAINS IT

Philadelphia, Nov. 6.—Susan B. Anthony, the reformer, has explained the defeat of Mayor Lew in New York. She says the fair sex did it, and that hereafter politicians must figure with the feminine gender.

POPE TO SEND A COMMISSIONER

Rome, Nov. 6.—William E. Curtis was received in private audience by the Pope at the Vatican and extended to his holiness an invitation to send a distinguished ecclesiastical commissioner of the holy see to the St. Louis exposition, beside an exhibit of the treasures of the Vatican.

The pope, in reply, said he was greatly pleased with the compliment paid him, and added that he would do all possible to comply with the requests contained in the invitation, both regarding the Vatican exhibit and sending a representative to St. Louis.

His holiness said:

"I accept the invitation with gratitude and charge you to express your appreciation of the thoughtfulness of including the holy see among the other nations invited."

CHINESE ENRAGED

At Russia's Action in Mukden, Clamor for War with Muscovites.

Pekin, Nov. 6.—Paul Lessar, the Russian minister to China, has repeated the demands of Russia for the execution of Major Wong, who recently decapitated a noted Russian brigand, and the dismissal of Yuen, the Tatolai of Mukden, who is Wong's superior officer. If China will not yield the Russians will continue to occupy Mukden.

The Chinese are more enraged at the Russian proceedings at Mukden than they have been over any events since the capture of Peking. Some of the hot-headed members of the council have advised the Dowager Empress to declare war on Russia and send troops to release the Tartar general, whose detention at Mukden, growing out of the decapitation of the Chinese brigand, wounds Chinese susceptibilities, since it is considered to be not only a insult to the high officials, but as insulting to the Chinese government itself.

Berlin, Nov. 6.—The trial of a medical officer and a number of corporals which is now progressing by court martial at Frankfurt, On Main, has caused add sensation because of the revelations of cruelty in the German army. During the last three months there have been over 100 convictions of commissioned and non-commissioned officers of the army for cruelty. The men in this case are charged with cruelty and atrocious brutality towards a soldier named Bayer. He was made blind and deaf and flung into a physical wreck.

NEW

Government Will Be Recognized.

Everything is Now Quiet On the Isthmus.

THE COLOMBIAN TROOPS HAVE LEFT COLON

ONE OF THE VERY FIRST ACTS

Of the New Republic Will be to Negotiate a Treaty for the Panama Canal.

Washington, Nov. 6.—It is announced that immediately after the cabinet meeting today a statement will be issued recognizing the new government of Panama, as a de facto government. The American consular officers at Panama and Colon, and the commanders of American naval vessels in Panama will be notified accordingly.

Washington, Nov. 6.—The navy department this morning received a dispatch from Commander Hubbard, of the Nashville, confirming the press accounts of the evacuation of Colon, by the Colombian troops and the assumption of authority by the provisional government of the republic of Panama. He adds that everything is now quiet.

Washington, Nov. 6.—The situation, fraught with possibilities of serious trouble between United States marines and blue jackets of the Colon and Colombian troops there, has been relieved by the peaceful withdrawal of the latter and the surrender of the city to the revolutionary government. The new republic now includes the whole of the Isthmus of Panama and its leaders are engaged in establishing such a government as will demonstrate their ability to maintain peace and order. With this accomplished one of the first acts of the new republic will be to attempt to negotiate a treaty with the United States for the Panama canal.

AMERICAN BANKERS' NEW PRESIDENT.

Frank G. Bigelow of Milwaukee, just elected president of the American Bankers' association, at San Francisco, is one of the best known bankers in the country, because his reputation for shrewd financing is as wide as the continent. Mr. Bigelow is a New Yorker by birth, born in Hartford, N. Y., October 28, 1847. He went to Wisconsin in 1861 and after a few years' schooling, became a messenger in the First National bank of Milwaukee. He won rapid promotion, and is now the millionaire president of the institution. Mr. Bigelow is a director of the North American Co. and of the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Co., besides a dozen other big institutions.

MAN POISONED AT A BANQUET

New York, Nov. 6.—A caide has been received here from London saying that James Henry Smith of this city, known as "Silent" Smith, who inherited $500,000 a few years ago from his uncle, had been poisoned at Hursley, Eng.

He will recover.

It is said that he was poisoned by food eaten at a banquet with which he entertained royal and other members of the exclusive set.

The millionaire bachelor had taken his own chef, whom he pays $20,000 a year, with him from London and his friends are at a loss to understand how he was poisoned.

ENRAGED WORKERS ATTACK FOREMAN

Canal Dover, O., Nov. 6.—A force of 10 laborers, Italian and American, engaged in a riot between here and New Philadelphia.

The men were engaged in lowering the tracks of the Canton and New Philadelphia street railway, and when the foreman discharged an Italian all quit and gathered about the foreman to demand their money. He refused, and one of the Italians struck him with a pick, cutting a deep gash in his head.

Immediately a free-for-all fight ensued and raged for several minutes. Some of the men were badly bruised.

BONDS

Belonging to Others Said to Have Been Sold by Frank B. Poor, Arrested at Seattle.

New York, Nov. 6.—Frank B. Poor, whose name recalls the sensational failure of the Seventh National Bank in which many Ohio men of prominence were interested, and the collapse of Henry Marquand & Co., was arrested Thursday afternoon on a bench warrant from this city charging him with grand larceny.

After months of investigation by Assistant District Attorney Train it had been decided to charge that he appropriated 25 $1,000 bonds of the Iron Mountain railroad held by other persons as trustees for some poor persons. The present case is characterized as the worst of a series of questionable transactions he is alleged to have been connected with.

While the matter is said to have had no immediate bearing on the failure of the old Seventh National bank, it was also said that that failure is not yet through with, so far as the government is concerned, though most people imagined it was part of the past. It is even intimated that developments may occur in time that may cause a lot of explanations, particularly with regard to shares in the bank that were sold. These shares, it is claimed, were regularly disposed of, and their sale was said to have been recorded in any books of the Seventh National bank.

FRANCE WANTS MORE CHILDREN

New York, Nov. 6.—A falling off in the number of French recruits this year by 44,000 draws attention to the depopulation of the country, says a Paris dispatch.

An extra parliamentary commission is advocating reforms calculated to lighten the burdens of the parents of large families, improved sanitation in order to reduce infant mortality, obligatory naturalization, together with moral suasion and a propaganda to deter the peasantry from flocking to the towns.

Cleveland, O., Nov. 6.—Ed Doty having the endorsement of Hanna and Dick, will be the next clerk of the House in the Ohio Legislature. Doty served two terms as representative from Cuyahoga county.

ON BOTH CHEEKS

The Czar and Kaiser Kissed Each Other When They Met.

Egelsbach, Grand Duchy of Hesse, Nov. 6.—Emperor William arrived here at midday from Wiesbaden and was cordially received at the railroad station by the Czar, the Grand Duke of Hesse and Prince Henry of Prussia. Their majesties kissed each other on both cheeks and then drove to Wolfscarten, where they lunched together, while at the Castle of Darmstadt Chancellor Von Bulow and Count Lamdorff, the Russian minister of foreign affairs, had a prolonged talk. One of the subjects discussed was the commercial treaty between Russia and Germany.

Men Will Strike.

Chicago, Nov. 6.—The employees of the Chicago City Railway company have voted to strike. When the polls closed at 4 o'clock this morning, out of a total of 2,000 votes cast, it was estimated by Recording Secretary Skerritt of the union of street car men, that 1,500 had voted affirmatively. Only 500 opposed the strike. The men, according to Skerritt, showed an extraordinary determination to enforce their demands. They want an increase of 10 cents per day.

SAM PARKS

Walking Delegate is Today Sentenced to Sing Sing.

Doubtful if He Will Survive His Sentence in Prison.

Counsel for Parks Asked for New Trial but Judge Refused and Sent the Prisoner up for a Term of Two and One-Half Years.

New York, Nov. 6.—Sam Parks walking delegate, found guilty of extortion of $500 from the Tiffany studio, was today sentenced to two years and six months in Sing Sing. As soon as sentence was pronounced Counsel Battle for the prisoner asked for a new trial on legal question. Judge Newburger refused. Battle then asked that leniency be extended. The judge replied that he had given the matter considerable thought and had come to the conclusion that the sentence imposed was the lightest possible under the circumstances. There was a large number of spectators at the court this morning, among them being Walking Delegate McCarthy. Parks received the sentence calmly and after his fate was known, he was led back to his cell. It is probable that the sentenced man will be taken to Sing Sing this afternoon. Parks is already under sentence for extortion of $200 from Contractor Josephus Plenty, and he had begun his sentence when his release from Sing Sing was obtained a few months ago. An affidavit of reasonable doubt. The reasonable doubt has been swept away by the confession of Henry Farley, a fellow walking delegate, that both he and Parks perjured themselves at the trial. There is considerable doubt felt as to whether Parks will ever survive his sentence.

NO GROUND

Rumor that Young Goelet was to Marry the Daughter of a Restaurant Keeper.

New York, Nov. 6.—Robert Goelet, son of Mrs. Ogden Goelet, and brother of Miss Goelet, who is to be married to the English Duke of Roxburgue, denies the truth of the story that he had married or was about to marry Miss Eleanor Anderson, the daughter of William Anderson, who has a restaurant in Sixth avenue, just above Forty-second street.

"It is a funny joke, isn't it?" he said. "Somebody is doing it to be funny. There isn't a word of truth in it all. I am not married, and I do not intend to marry. I have not the honor of knowing either Miss Anderson or her father. So far as I know the story is not true of my cousin, Robert Walton Goelet."

Robert W. Goelet said that he knew nothing of the reported marriage. Rev. Father Lavelle, of St. Patrick's cathedral, when seen and asked whether or not the story of the marriage was true, replied:

"I don't know anything about it."

Out of a statement by Anderson that his daughter, Eleanor L., was to be married Thursday to a man named "J. Ogden Goelet, Jr.," came the story that Miss Anderson had been or was to be secretly married to Robert Goelet.

He and his family have preserved the utmost secrecy about the marriage, and have refused to talk about it further than the father's announcement.

There is no member of the prominent Goelet families by the name of J. Ogden Goelet, Jr.

Hillsboro Murder

Hillsboro, O., Nov. 6.—Joe Adams, colored, killed Joe Hughes, white, here last night. The weapon used was an ax and Hughes' skull was crushed. Sheriff Elliott arrested Adams and took him to Chillicothe for safe keeping, as it was feared Hughes' friends might lynch him. The ax was found hidden under Adams' cabin, where the murder was committed. A knife was tightly clenched in Hughes' hand when the body was found. Adams claims self-defense.

Three men are connected with the Thamus, which extend altogether 331 miles.

MYSTERY IS SOLVED

Missing Millionaire Wentz is Being Held for $100,000 Ransom—Admission of Congressman Slemg at Bristol, Tenn.

Bristol, Tenn., Nov. 6.—The Wentz mystery may now be regarded as virtually solved. Congressman Slemg of the Ninth Virginia district, brought tidings to Bristol last night confirming the story that the family recently received a proposition that the missing young millionaire would be returned to them for $100,000. Slemg said that the stranger who brought the proposition has been at the Wentz home since that it is understood that the man is a letter to the parents in their private care as a ransom. The letter was a card and a bill of exchange for $100,000 was returned upon payment of the ransom.

J. L. Slemg, a younger brother of the missing man, came to Bristol with Congressman Slemg. While he declined to talk and the details are still a secret with the family, Slemg says that the relief felt by the aged parents of the missing young millionaire cannot be concealed. It is now three weeks since the search was instituted and it is believed the negotiations will be consummated without serious delay.

A WRESTLING PARSON.

Jersey Clergyman Who Believes In Muscular Christianity.

HARD MAN TO BEAT "ON THE MAT"

Rev. Archibald B. McLaurin of Atlantic Highlands Can Throw the Biggest Members of His Congregation and Taken on Outdoors Cheerfully—Has Started Football Team. Now He Downed a "Ringer."

Muscular Christianity is having a most strenuous inning at Atlantic Highlands, N. J., where the Rev. Archibald B. McLaurin, pastor of the Central Baptist church, is champion wrestler, says the New York Commercial Advertiser. He has thrown all the members of his congregation who have dared to meet him on the mat, and many young men—big, rawboned farmer's boys living in nearby towns—have joined the church just to be eligible "to tackle the parson."

The dominie graduated from Colgate in 1894 and was the best wrestler in the university during his sojourn there. He stands 5 feet 4 inches high and weighs 150 pounds. His shoulders are broad, and his arms are steel muscled. From the day that he became spiritual adviser of the Baptist flock two years ago he favored the establishment of a gymnasium in the church so that the young men might be developed physically as well as spiritually. The older members of the church shook their heads dubiously when the question of church athletics was broached by the enthusiastic young clergyman. Against such opposition Mr. McLaurin used great tact.

One Sunday morning, after he had a particularly good time preaching, a little wrinkled faced farmer came to the pulpit, pulling savagely at his stubby beard.

"I've heard," said he, "that you gave my son a good darn bad kicking in the class room the other night. He says you're a peach, but I think it was outrageous for you to act as he said you did. That kid of mine is strong, but he tells me you tied him in all kinds of knots and told him you would be pleased to entertain any other member of our family in the same way. Now, look here, parson, I want you to understand that I don't favor a minister carrying on so, but—say, parson, I've got another boy I bet you can't throw."

A half Nelson settled the other son, and the "parson's athletic club" had an auspicious beginning about two months ago.

Every Thursday night the chairs are piled into a corner of the basement lecture room, where the athletes and the parson hold their athletic exercises. There are wrestling mats, a medicine ball, flying rings and parallel bars. Mr. McLaurin can show the way to his young followers all along the line. All have joined his Sunday Bible class because they are afraid he will "take a fall out of them" on Thursday night if they don't. Nobody can say a word against the parson without a dozen dangerous looking chaps stepping out to defend him. There were never more young people at the Sunday services than at the present time.

Once in awhile the boys try to put up a game on their leader by running in a "ringer" on him. It is always some young fellow who has a reputation as a wrestler round about some neighboring post office and general store. All lads look alike to the dominie, however, and some of them who had an idea they knew a thing or two about wrestling have been very scarce since they closed with the little clergyman. The last victim was a six footer who dredged for clams all day and playfully tossed his companions about in a billiard parlor in the evening. He laughed long and loud when the parson's record and his pretensions were disclosed to him. "I'll tell him up like a jackknife," he said sarcastically.

There were fifty lanky natives crowded into the lecture room the night the big fellow tackled the minister. The visitor, looking down from his six foot elevation, grinned as he surveyed the compact bunch of humanity before him. "It seems like a sin," he muttered, as with a lunge he closed his arms about the little man with the intention of keeling him over in a hurry. To his surprise the dominie was about as yielding as a bronze figure. With a crash the husky youth struck the mat just a few seconds later. He found a wiry arm wrapped about his neck, and his breathing apparatus soon began to squeak painfully. Then he got mad, but with every exertion more air seemed to be shut out from his lungs, and he began to yell for help. This young fellow joined the Bible class on the next Sunday. In explanation he said:

"The devil has been getting into me lately, and if it comes to a hand to hand struggle I want the dominie around to get in his strangle hold on him."

Mr. McLaurin's latest move is the organization of a football team. Many of the boys cannot get out for practice in the daytime, so they run through signals in the lecture room after prayer meeting. Considerable blood has been spilled through contact with pillars and other things, and the dominie has received his knocks with the rest of the boys. When the old folks see suspicious spots on the floor they remark:

"Some more of the dominie's pranks. This newfangled idea of religious training is certainly a return to the days of martyrs."

"SAILOR JEAN'S" TRIP.

Aspiring Author's Plan to Get Material For a Book.

VISITS STATE CAPITALS ON FOOT.

Jean A. Krohn, Who Has Already Worn Out Eight Pairs of Shoes In His Novel Journey, Will Spend the Winter Tramping the Southern States—Over 5,000 Miles Covered.

"Sailor Jean," who is visiting all the state capitals of the nation afoot, arrived at Macon, Mo., the other day, says the Kansas City Star. He had at that time completed his three thousand eight hundred and fifty-second mile and had worn out his eighth pair of shoes. "Sailor Jean's" real name is Jean A. Krohn. He was feeling first rate and hopeful. He had only 18-200 miles ahead of him. He has the postmaster of every town through which he passes register his name with the office cancellation stamp. At state capitals the secretary of states issues him a certificate of his presence, attested by seal. "Sailor Jean" trundles a small barrow which has a cask and a flag on it and which he calls his "trolleyette." He left Boston April 1 without a penny. The revenue comes from little aluminum card trays he sells at 10 cents each. Jean's wife and baby travel ahead on the railroad. They wait at a designated point, which he reaches Sunday, and he spends the day with them. Jean is now averaging $40 a week selling his souvenirs. "Sailor Jean's" statistical report up to Oct. 22 was as follows: Bitten by snakes, once; bitten by dogs, eleven times; killed ten of the biters; "held up" by highwaymen, once; loss, a gold watch and $1.80 in cash; attempted "holdups," two; miraculous escapes from suffocation in railroad tunnels, three; sick, two hours; best day's march, thirty-eight miles; worst grub, in mountains west of Virginia, cold cornbread and dried apples. It takes eight pairs of shoes to travel 3,852 miles and five fires for the "trolleyette" wheel.

Why is "Sailor Jean" going to all this trouble? Because he has fallen a victim to the universal desire to be an author. He explains it in this wise: "I had observed that most people who wrote stories of travel journeyed over the country in first class coaches. They visited only the great cities and points of known interest. They are piloted around by guides, from whom they acquire most of their information. Their stories are of beaten paths and, dress them as artistically and originally as they may, they are only telling a tale that has been told. While making no particular claim to superiority in writing, I thought, by assuming the garb of a sailor and traveling as one of the plain, everyday toilers I could get closer to nature and her children and tell a story of our country such as had never yet been told. I meet the farmers, the miners, the railroad men, the workmen, not of one state or a dozen, but of all. I make notes concerning the condition of crossroads hamlets that are so small they do not appear on the map. At the mining camps I go through the pits and sleep in the homes of the miners. It would surprise you to witness the variety of people in our country. There is a wide difference in the characteristics of the Americans in different sections, just as the climate differs."

"Sailor Jean's" route was made out in detail before he left Boston. According to his contract with his publisher, he must complete his tour in three and a half years. He is now southward bound and will pass the winter tramping the southern states. His schedule requires him to report in Topeka, Kan., in the spring. He is to go on foot the entire distance, except in crossing streams, where ferries are the only method.

Innocence Abroad.

A young lady from the country was visiting relatives in the city. During the course of a conversation the country girl said to her city cousin, "And were you never in the country during the season of husking bees?" "No," was the reply. "The ideal! How do you husk a bee anyway?"—Petoskey (Mich.) Lyte.

MRS. HELENA BLAU,

Young Milwaukee Society Woman.

When thousands of women have written to tell how Wine of Cardui bestows the blessing of health on every woman who takes it, rich and poor alike, Mrs. Helena Blau, No. 123 Seventh Street, Milwaukee, Wis., is one of the young women whom Wine of Cardui has rescued from a life of suffering. She writes:

"Wine of Cardui is a truly wonderful women's best friend and I am pleased to give my experience with it. A few months ago I caught a severe cold, having been out in inclement weather, which settled all over me, particularly in the abdomen. I was in almost constant pain. I consulted a physician and took his medicine for a month and without any relief. I then decided I would try your medicine and it was a lucky day for me when I did so. I noticed a change in a few days and felt encouraged to continue taking Wine of Cardui, and my patience was rewarded, for in two weeks my pains had left me and I felt like a new woman."

The woman who has suffered from female weakness should do anything within reason to secure health. Wine of Cardui is the medicine that appeals to reasonable women—women who hold operations and cutting in horror—women who know that Nature is the best physician. Wine of Cardui gives women back their health by giving Nature a chance to build up the wasted and disordered tissues. Wine of Cardui regulates the menstrual flow and Nature, when relieved of the drains or of the poisons in the system, makes the functional organs strong and healthy again.

Any woman who is silently suffering untold pains because she is too sensitive to undergo a physician's examination and treatment can find no excuse for not securing relief when Wine of Cardui is offered to her. There is no publicity to deter her. She can take Wine of Cardui in the privacy of her home, with as much assurance of a final cure as many doctors recommend it. Many physicians do recommend Wine of Cardui to their patients.

Why not get a $1.00 bottle of Wine of Cardui from your druggist today?

WILL DIE

IN SEVEN DAYS, ASSERTS MRS. JANE GREENWOOD.

And She Intends to See as Much of the World as She Possibly Can in That Time.

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 6.—Mrs. Jane Greenwood, convinced that she will live but seven days, gathered a crowd of newsboys about her at the Great Northern hotel at noon yesterday and played the role of hostess at a luncheon. Mrs. Greenwood is convinced that she is a doomed woman. The arguments of her friends were futile, and she turns a deaf ear to the words of science.

"I am to die," she said yesterday afternoon. "Nothing can save me, and I am bound to see as much of the world as I can before the final summons comes."

The peculiar part of it is that Mrs. Greenwood is not even ill. Her cheeks are rosy and her step elastic. In every way she is enjoying excellent health. Fortune tellers and the word of a dying man have much to do with the story of this strange woman. She comes from Indiana. She gave her address as Vanlontown, a village in the southern part of the state, when she registered at the Great Northern hotel Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Greenwood spent the afternoon at the shops, and in the evening she went to the theater. An automobile stood at the hotel entrance this morning. It was for Mrs. Greenwood. She rode in it all morning. She returned to the hotel with the automobile, filled with newsboys. They trooped to the grill room, and for once in their lives ate the best to be had. When they departed each held a piece of money.

"What's it all in honor of?" Mrs. Greenwood was asked.

"I'm going to die and I want to do as much good as I can before I pass away," was the answer.

"Why, you're in excellent health."

"Yes, but I'll be a corpse in one week from today," and her tone showed she meant it.

"I've known for some time that I was doomed. My husband died on November 12, 1902. Janet, you'll join me in one year, were his last words. I thought about those words many times. It got so I thought of them every day and many times in the night. I went to a fortune-teller and she said that I would not live long. When I pressed her for a more specific answer she told me I would die in November, 1903."

"Then it became worse than ever. I could think of nothing else. Three weeks ago I consulted another fortune teller. 'You will not live long; your life line is broken,' she said. I pressed her and she said I would die in a month. Then I began to dream of death. Almost every night I would see a coffin and a woman in it. It was indistinct at first, but it gradually became plain. Last week I recognized the features of the woman."

She stopped for a moment.

"The features were mine. I saw the plate. My name was on it, and worst of all, there was the date, November 12."

"And you believed?"

"I was convinced. Next Thursday will be my last day on earth. I had never seen much of the world and I was anxious to know more about it. I had some money in the bank and I took it out. No one is dependent on me. I will see as much of the world as I can before next Thursday. On that day I will return to Yanketown. That will be the day of my death."

Mrs. Greenwood left for St. Louis last night.

The Democratic victory in New York City consists of more than the 64,000 majority for McClellan. Seth Lowe was elected two years ago by 32,000. Hence there was a Democratic gain in the election of McClellan over Lowe of 96,000.

It throws hardly needed light on the possibilities of fraud at the Philadelphia election Tuesday that the total registration of the city was 378,673, while the total registration of New York with Brooklyn thrown out was 361,384. In Philadelphia there was hardly a breath of interest in the election, while New York was in a turmoil of excitement, and has a population twice as large as that of Philadelphia, which boasts a registration, largely for repeating purposes, 17,000 in excess of that of New York. That tells the story of elections in Pennsylvania. A tenth of the corruption that exists in Philadelphia would quickly provoke a mighty revolution in New York, Chicago, St. Louis, or any other great city in the United States. But the overwhelming Republican majority in Philadelphia so completely dominates its people and press that all opposition is as helpless and puny as if the city were a part of the dominion of the czar of Russia.

ANOTHER HUNT

Is Planned by President Roosevelt in the Colorado Mountains During Christmas Holidays.

Denver, Colo., Nov. 6.—"Mr. President: Lions and bobcats and badgers are going fast. If you expect another good hunt, you'd better prepare for it this year. In another year maybe all will be killed off," wrote John B. Goff, the veteran guide of Meeker, who conducted President Roosevelt's last hunting expedition in Routt county, in a letter addressed to the White House several weeks ago.
Mr. Goff received an answer to his letter, and private advices from Meeker say it was favorable. Mr. Goff is reticent about the matter except to confidants.
One "leaked" the other day and now the story is afloat in the game country that the President will come West for a hunt during the 10 days following Christmas, while Congress is home for the holidays.
"Will be really delighted," the President's letter to Mr. Goff is said to open, "if I can make the trip, for I am anxious to get one more crack at my ancient enemy, the Colorado lion, and his companions in the mountain fastnesses, this season, if possible."

PALE FACES

BY SOME THOUGHT TO DENOTE REFINEMENT.

"What a mistake!" said Mr. Frank D. Hall, our leading druggist. "In place of refinement, pale faces denote disease. A bloodless face indicates impoverished blood, pure and simple.
"What is the result? A weakened condition of the entire system, the development of humors, disfiguring eruptions and finally a general collapse.
"I wish your paper would tell every pale man, woman and child; yes, and every feeble old person, that I am so sure that our famous cod liver oil preparation, Vinol (delicious to taste, and without oil), will make rich, red blood, create strength and restore them to a normal condition. That I will pay for the Vinol they take if it does not succeed.
"Why am I so sure? Simply because I have seen it succeed so many times that I now don't believe it can fail. You see it contains in a highly concentrated form all of the vital principles of cod liver oil, without any grease to upset the stomach. We know that it is fresh and actually does contain the fifty odd medicinal curatives taken from fresh cods' livers, and it is the real thing," as the boys say. We do not ask you to take our word for it, but simply try it on our guarantee." Frank D. Hall, Druggist.

A Bugle Call To Democrats.

(Enquirer.)
The victory in New York City comes at a most opportune time to the Democratic party of the country, and it comes from the heart of the citadel of the enemies' strength. Defeated in Nebraska, defeated in Ohio, defeated in Iowa, borne down in the North and West by overpowering numbers, suddenly and unexpectedly the Democratic hosts hear the call to the colors in the East and listen to shouts of victory that revive courage and bring back hope. New York Democrats never fought a more heroic fight, nor secured a more opportune and far-reaching victory. It is not bounded in its results by the Hudson, nor the St. Lawrence, nor the glad tidings bring joy to the Democrats from the Atlantic surges to the Pacific swells. Like the slogan at Lucknow, it changes despair to hope, despondency to fervor, feebleness to strength, and the Democratic party is stronger than for years through the victory in New York City, of Tammany's leaders and followers. In every state in the Union the good work of Charles F. Murphy and his faithful lieutenants is recognized by the Democratic voters as of national importance, and the accuracy of their pre-election estimates is evidence of a superb and thorough organization capable of the greatest political results. The Democrats of the country were fully cognizant of the Brooklyn situation. The triumphant overcoming of these obstacles have stamped Chief Murphy and Senator H. A. McCarren as skillful leaders, wise counsellors and able public men. Thundered at on week days and Sundays by hostile pulpits and abusive press, Tammany calmly marched to victory.
The Hon. William Randolph Hearst, with his three widely circulated newspapers, most ably formulated the campaign issues and placed them before the people in the strongest and most effective manner. This young congressman proved himself in this campaign, as in preceding struggles, a staunch Democrat, and a tower of strength to the cause. The Hon. Bourke Cockran, with the biting sarcasm of a Tallyrand, exposed the shams of Fusion to scorn and contempt, and with the eloquence he alone commands he drove his opponents from the platforms in defeat and confusion. To the organizing powers of Murphy, the quiet diplomacy of McCarren, the journals of Hearst, the learning, logic and eloquence of Cockran, the clean character of McClellan, the loyalty of the followers of Tammany Hall, this great victory is due, and Democrats everywhere hail it as the harbinger of state and national triumphs to come.

SMOOT AN APOSTLE

Senator Has as Mormon Colleagues Men of Many Wives—"The Only Mrs. Smoot"—All About The Church of Latter Day Saints.

(Special to Advocate.)
Salt Lake City, Utah, Nov. 6.—Here is all about the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints. It reads something like New York's Tammany, or George B. Cox's organization in Cincinnati.
President—Joseph F. Smith.
Counselors to the President—Anton H. Lund and John R. Winder.
Members of the Apostles, or Quorum of Twelve—Francis M. Lyman, president; John Henry Smith, George Teasdale, Marringer W. Merrill, Heber J. Grant, John W. Taylor, A. O. Woodruff, Rudger Clawson, Mathias Cowley, Reed Smoot, Hyrum M. Smith, George A. Smith.
It is dominated by the Smith family, descendants of the original Prophet and founder of Mormonism. Joseph Smith, who was shot and killed by a mob while in jail at Carthage, Ill., for treason. The highest authority is the President and his two counselors. The next highest authority are the Twelve Apostles. The vote of these twelve equals in power the vote of the three prophets, or the president and his two counselors.

Of United States Senator Reed Smoot's associates of the Quorum of Twelve, Teasdale has three wives, Merrill four, Grant three, John Henry Smith is known to have three wives, and is living in polygamy today; Clawson was convicted of polygamy and served a term in the penitentiary; Francis M. Lyman, president of Apostles, Smoot's body, who will succeed Joseph Smith as president of the Mormon church on the death of Smith, has four wives. John Henry Smith is a cousin of President Smith; Hyrum is a son of the president, and George A. Smith is a son of John Henry, father and son being in the Quorum of Twelve. President Smith is a nephew of the original Joseph. Reed Smoot was appointed an Apostle in 1900 by the then president of the church, Lorenzo Snow.
Every good Mormon is compelled to contribute 10 per cent of his earnings each year to the church. He must contribute the tenth cow, the tenth bushel, dollar, pound, ton horse, etc. These contributions create what is called the tithing fund, which supports the Mormon church. It amounts to a million dollars a year, and is increasing. The president has full charge of this fund. The Apostles are appointed for life—once an Apostle, always an Apostle. They are paid out of the tithing fund. Brigham Young paid the Apostles $1500 a year each, but they now receive double that salary.
The first president of the Mormon church was Joseph Smith who never saw Utah. Then came Brigham Young who reigned 30 years, or until 1877, when he died, leaving 21 wives, with whom he lived in open polygamy. Five of Brigham Young's widows are still living, including his favorite wife, Harriet Amelia Folsom Young, a cousin of Mrs. Grover Cleveland, and for whom Brigham Young built the Amelia palace, which is now owned and occupied by Gentiles. The next president was John Taylor, who died at Kaysville, Davis county, Utah, while in hiding to escape arrest for polygamy. Then came Wilford Woodruff, who died a natural death in 1899. Then Lorenzo Snow, who appointed Reed Smoot an Apostle, and who died a natural death in 1901. Then came Joseph F. Smith, the present president. When a president dies the president of the Twelve Apostles becomes president of the church and the next in duration of service as an Apostle becomes president of the Apostles and the "heir apparent" to the throne. As an Apostle Senator Smoot is tenth in line, so that there are nine men between Reed Smoot and the presidency. But the Senator will reach the top if he lives.

In Utah all Mormons aspire to be an Apostle, for it means to be a member of the royal family. They are princes of the realm.
Reed Smoot's neighbors, Mormon and non-Mormon, all speak in the highest terms of him. The Senator has always denied that he is a polygamist, and Mormons and Gentiles alike accept his statement as true. A delegation of newspaper men, who attended the National Irrigation Congress, at Ogden, Utah, last month, went to Provo as the guests of Senator Smoot. In presenting his wife to them he said: "Gentlemen I want to present to you the only Mrs. Smoot." His guests all laughed, and Mrs. Smoot enjoyed it. Smoot is 38 years old. His father was Abraham O. Smoot, president of the Utah Stake of Zion, and the husband of several wives at one time. Senator Smoot is a banker, merchant, manufacturer of woolen goods and mine owner, and is quoted at a quarter of a million. He has several children.
In Utah the Mormons largely predominate. In Salt Lake City the Mormons and Gentiles are about equally divided, with the latter getting stronger every year. These are the present figures in round numbers:
Total population of Utah, 300,000.
Mormons in Utah, 240,000.
Total population of Salt Lake City, 70,000.
Mormons in Salt Lake City, 35,000.
Children of school age in Salt Lake City, 15,000. CHAS. L. DORAN.

Mr. Weiney's Funeral

The funeral of the late Roderick H. Weiney was held from the residence of Edward Kibler, the old family home of Mrs. Weiney, Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, the services being conducted in a simple and impressive manner by the Rev. Lester Boyce, pastor of the First Presbyterian church. The services were made more beautiful by the two solos "Face to Face" and "Abide With Me," faultlessly sung by the baritone, Mr. Walter Ball. Such a display of flowers has never before been seen in Newark. Various floral pieces were sent by friends and business associates of Newark, Columbus, Indianapolis, Pittsburg, Philadelphia, Washington and New York. Representatives of the Bell Long Distance Telephone company were present from the above cities, which testified to the esteem in which Mr. Weiney was held by the prominent men of his profession.

Marie Layton Was Clad as She Was Led Away to the Sing Sing Penitentiary.

New York, Nov. 6.—Marie Layton, the young woman who stole thousands of dollars from the United States Playing Card company, which she spent in luxurious living, was taken from the Tombs to Auburn prison to serve her sentence. She did not ride in a cab, but in the custody of Deputy Keeper Mason and a matron she stepped into a street car that took her to the Grand Central depot.
Dr. Johnston was with Miss Layton a half hour before she left the Tombs on her way to the state prison. Neither showed any signs of grief, and when it was time for Miss Layton to have the Tombs door closed upon her she walked out with head erect and unfaltering gait.
Her dress bore marks of elegance. She was clad in black from head to foot and a heavy black veil hid her features from the gaze of a curious public. Dr. Johnston rode with her to the Grand Central depot, where he quit her. She left on the 1:25 train for the state bastille.

CALIFORNIA.

The great prosperity of this land of opportunity has recently been marked by a distinguished visitor, Hon. Hamilton Fish, Assistant United States Treasurer. Mr. Fish saw nothing that impressed him more than the large business being done on the Pacific Coast, the apparent PERMANENCE of its prosperity, and the NEED of more WORKERS. The basis of this prosperity is first of all CLIMATE, then ELECTRICAL ENERGY and FUEL OIL for manufacturers, and finally IRRIGATION. Given WATER to turn on at will, in a country so full of SUNSHINE, and growing is continuous. Something is growing EVERY MONTH to put on the table to fatten stock, or carry to market. ONE ACRE of alfalfa will support one cow, as pasture, and for hay, can be cut five times a year. Large tracts in England and Scotland combined California has ROOM for a MILLION more people, and this makes land CHEAP, and OPPORTUNITY GREAT. A SELF-SUSTAINING home, the VALUE of which will RAPIDLY INCREASE, can EASILY be secured where life means COMFORT as well as COIN.

COLONIST RATES now make it easy to see how it is yourself. They are based on a rate of $33 from Chicago, or $25.00 from Missouri river points, via Southern Pacific. California books can be had of any agent.

EXPLANATION

Demanding by Ex-Congressman Watson Populist Leader, Came Near Causing Riot in Georgia Town.

Thomson, Ga., Nov. 6.—Owing to a dispute in which former Congressman Thomas E. Watson, the well known Populist leader, who was Vice Presidential candidate in 1896, and who has since won fame as an historical author, was one of the principals in what came near being a civil war between prohibition and liquor partisans.
For some time bitter feeling has existed between Mr. Watson and those known as leaders of the liquor element. One of these leaders made some very uncomplimentary remarks concerning Mr. Watson. When Mr. Watson asked an explanation the remarks were repeated. A personal difficulty was averted by bystanders, but friends of both parties immediately got under arms, and for a time it seemed that bloodshed was inevitable.
Mr. Watson is known as a man of great personal courage, and his antagonist is not lacking in this respect. Friends of both were loyal and quick to come to their aid. Practically the whole town was involved in the quarrel and about evenly divided. Cooler heads among the citizens finally effected a tentative settlement and all parties have disarmed, but great bitterness exists and there may be more trouble.

VERDICT

In the Cunningham-Everett Case May be Rendered Some Time Next Monday.

In Common Pleas court in the case of Cunningham, admr., vs. Everett glass company, the defense Friday resumed the introduction of its testimony. It is expected to reach a verdict some time Monday. A large amount of the testimony is of a technical nature, referring to the manner of the construction of trusses, the wind-stress on buildings, electricity and lightning, the defense claiming that the building was properly constructed, but fell on account of an exceedingly high wind and lightning.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—A while ago my health began to fail because of female troubles. The doctor did not help me. I remembered that my mother had used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound on many occasions for irregularities and uterine troubles, and I felt sure that it could not harm me at any rate to give it a trial.
"I was certainly glad to find that within a week I felt much better, the terrible pains in the back and side were beginning to cease, and at the time of menstruation I did not have nearly as serious a time as heretofore, so I continued its use for two months, and at the end of that time I was like a new woman. ## CONFIDENCE IN BANKS IS FULLY RESTORED.

People Realize Institutions Are in Fine Condition.

Figures Taken From Recent Statements--Wild Rumors Have Subsided--Statement is Made by Harry J. Hoover--The Day's News of the Case.

The announcement in Thursday's papers of the alleged shortages of Harry J. Hoover, cashier of the Licking County bank, and formerly assistant cashier of the People's National bank, was the only topic of conversation discussed in the city Thursday night and Friday morning. The statements of both banks' residents, which were made public, as well as the assurances carried in the news of the transactions of Hoover and Scott, allayed any uneasiness that might otherwise have been disturbing to the minds of stockholders and depositors.

Both banks opened their doors for business as usual, and at neither place was there even a flurry of excitement. At both institutions any depositor or stockholder who called was frankly told the exact condition of affairs and shown conclusively that his stock or deposit was more than safe. In every case the person who came doubting went away perfectly satisfied, and business was conducted in the same manner as usual.

The tampering with accounts of the People's bank is a more serious matter from a legal standpoint than with those of the Licking, as the former is a national bank and is under certain rules and regulations that have the force of federal statutes. There is absolutely no question but that this bank, as well as the Licking, is absolutely safe and more than able to pay any indebtedness, but the affair may be taken out of their hands, and should a prosecution be commenced by federal authority, it is the opinion of lawyers that no action will be taken against Hoover that will not include Scott.

Federal statute 5,209, which covers this case, reads as follows:
"Every president, director, cashier, teller, clerk or agent who makes any false entry in any book, report or statement of the association with intent in either case to injure or defraud the association, or to deceive any officer or the association, and every person who with like intent aids or abets any officer, clerk or agent in any violation of this section, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and imprisoned not less than five years, nor more than ten years."

BANK STATEMENT.
A statement of the People's bank made Wednesday night showed the following: Capital stock paid, $150,000; surplus and undivided profits, $85,000; loans, $183,000; deposits, $470,000; cash and sight exchange, $218,000.

The Licking's recently published statement showed: Capital paid, $165,000; undivided profits, $10,000; deposits, $459,000; loans, $485,000; cash and sight exchange, $137,000.

These statements show both institutions to be in first class condition and leading men express the utmost confidence in both. The banks made no mistake in taking the public into their confidence, as by doing so the wildest kind of rumors subsided and the published facts show that both banks are perfectly able and willing to meet any and all demands.

HOOVER STATEMENT

Former Cashier Says He Personally Told Scott of the Discrepancies and Scott Eager to Supplant Him as Cashier Began Talking.

Harry J. Hoover was seen at his home on Granville street by The Advocate and asked to give his version of the story. Pale and wan, he lay propped up in bed, with the arms of his devoted wife about his neck, and he voiced, tender with love, sounding in his ear as she cautioned him to retain his composure and not let the interview unduly excite him.

At first Mr. Hoover was not inclined to talk, but finally said:

"You may say for me that the Licking County bank is absolutely secured for anything that I owe them. The bank is my first thought, and I rejoice that it is safe."

"The work of Harry P. Scott, throughout this whole affair has been diabolical. It was he who stirred up the whole matter, after everything had been satisfactorily adjusted, and the directors of the Licking County bank, every one of whom is my friend, had secured the bank from loss and arranged to avoid any publicity in the matter."

"Now when Scott says that he discovered discrepancies in my accounts at the People's bank, he lies, and he would not dare to sit where you are and tell me that. I took him in a bug-eye a year ago last May, out in Sharon valley and voluntarily told him of these discrepancies, and told him they would have to be made good. He then and there agreed to do anything I thought best in the matter."

"Now he afterward went to the Licking County bank, and in his eagerness to supplant me as the cashier, he begins talking. He even came to my house while I was lying ill in this bed and told me that if I did not resign that very day and announce it he would wreck me and the bank. I told him his actions savored of blackmail, but he said I could call him anything I wished, but that was his ultimatum. I refused, and he continued to talk, but here he made a great mistake. He supposed that the certificates of deposit had been destroyed, but they were not. I had them locked up, and when I saw that he would attempt to carry out his threat of wrecking the bank, I turned them over just last Tuesday."

"His actions throughout have been those of an ingrate, and by his own story, told for the express purpose of ruining me, has had the same effect on him. He had no reputation or character to lose, but his course was foolish from his own standpoint. I intend to leave the bank and I know that he would have been elected to my place, but all hope of that is now gone."

"I was Scott's friend when he needed one, but his ambition to get my position led him to play traitor to me, and, as it proves, false to his own best interests."

GRANVILLE

Song Recital Thursday Evening by Mr. Legler—A Japanese Tea Given on Thursday.

Granville, O., Nov. 6.—One of the most enjoyable events that has taken place in the musical circles of Granville for some time, was the song recital given by Mr. Legler, a pupil of the famous Prof. Blumenschein, of Dayton, at Recital hall on Thursday evening. It was a strictly invitation affair, and the result was that an audience composed largely of the music loving citizens of Granville was in attendance to hear the young singer who is possessed of one of the finest baritone voices ever heard in Granville, and she has entertained many noted singers in her time. Those who were so fortunate as to be present were delighted with the admirably chosen selections rendered by the young singer, who was accompanied on the piano by Mr. Chas. B. White.

Thursday afternoon Mrs. C. J. Herrick and Mrs. William Ashmore entertained very charmingly with a Japanese tea at the home of Mrs. Herrick. The rooms were beautifully and artistically decorated, and those present enjoyed a very pleasant afternoon.

The evening session of the Delaware District Council for the Union Christian church on Thursday evening was given up entirely to the cause of missions. Rev. James Lamp and Rev. J. W. Yantis, each delivered an interesting and helpful address on the demands of the hour. The session on Thursday was one full of helpful things, while the discussion on the limits of local church government was full of zeal. The paper by Rev. M. A. Lamp, read today on Ministerial Qualifications, was well prepared and received. The sermon this evening by Rev. W. H. Baker, of temperance, should be heard by all. Come at 7 o'clock for the song and praise service. Good sermons are preached at 11 a. m. and 3 p. m. today.

ECZEMA SETS THE SKIN ON FIRE

No disease causes so much bodily discomfort, or itches, and burns like Eczema. Beginning often with a slight redness of the skin it gradually spreads, followed by pustules or blisters from which a gummy, sticky fluid oozes which dries and scales off or forms bad looking sores and scabs. It appears on different parts of the body but oftenest upon the back, arms, hands, legs and face, and is a veritable torment at times, especially at night or when overheated.
The cause of Eczema is a too acid and general unhealthy condition of the blood.
The terrifying itching
and burning is produced by the overflow through the glands and pores of the skin of the fiery poisons which the blood-current is overloaded. While external applications, such as washes, soaps, salves and powders arrest the iting and cooling they do not touch the real cause of the disease, but S. S. S.
does, and purifies, enriches,
and strengthens the thin acid blood and cleanses
and builds up the general system, when the skin clears off and Eczema with all its terrifying symptoms disappears.

AMUSEMENTS

Tim Murphy, one of this country's foremost comedians, has it is reported, scored the biggest hit of his career in his new play, "The Man from Missouri," which was written especially
for him by George W. Hobart and Edward E. Rose. Mr. Murphy's role is that of a Westerner named Jim Broncho, a new type of American, who helps to elect a friend to Congress and to think, for the enthusiasm which greeted the return of "Sweet Clover" in his new play, "The Man from Missouri," which was written especially

for him by George W. Hobart and Edward E. Rose. Mr. Murphy's role is that of a Westerner named Jim Bron-
cho, a new type of American, who
helps to elect a friend to Congress and

"They're courtin', when they're almost too old for life insurance."

afterwards visits the friend in Washington, where he is introduced to the smart set of the nation's capital,
among whom he moves with ease, causing alternate smiles and tears by his unctuous good humor and gentle tenderness. There are four acts to the play and a very large company is required to interpret the different roles.
"The Man from Missouri" will be tonight's attraction at the Auditorium.

SWEET CLOVER.

There is no denying the fact that the beautiful scenic production of "Sweet Clover" was one of the artistic and substantial successes of last season, and that return date were requested in every city visited, leads one to believe that this is one of those good, wholesome plays which will live for years and endear themselves to the public by repetition. Wherever possible return dates were arranged and it is extremely gratifying to record that the attendance and receipts were increased in every instance. The public is not slow to appreciate a meritorious theatrical attraction, and are always willing to bestow their patronage upon one which has been proven worthy of it, nor is it clamoring for risqué or noisy plays, as some managers appear

"They're courtin', when they're almost too old for life insurance."

DRIVEN FROM HOME

"In Driven From Home," Patricia,
the clever emotional actress, seems to have found a vehicle especially suited for her line of work, and while it is not only suited to her talent, it is also a play that has won praise from all the critics throughout the country.
The story is both new and novel. Its characters are many and embrace those characters to be found in the smaller towns along the Hudson river, where the scenes of the first and second acts are laid. These characters are of the type best calculated to suit the taste of the audience loving public who constantly crave for something new. From a scenic point of view the production is said to be a most notable one as every piece used is carried, and the different settings represent an outlay of thousands of dollars.

Trials of the C. O. D. Man

His Experience as a Publisher Didn't Last Very Long.

(Copyright, 1903, by C. B. Lewis.)

"W HEN I first became a dilapidated gentleman," said the C. O. D. man as he received his fee in advance and bowed his thanks, "I decided to take in the glorious west. I was doing some tramping, some mining and a great deal of starving and cussing in Montana when I struck a frontier town one night to find a good deal of excitement. The editor of the weekly paper had been lynched for protesting against the free and easy manners of the citizens, and his body had not yet been cut down. I stood gazing at it when the leader of the lynching party came up and slapped me on the shoulder and said:
"Say, tenderfoot, are ye lookin' fur
a job?"
"I am," I replied.
"Hev ye got any brains in yer head?"
"I hope so."
"Ye look to hev, but ye must also hev common sense mixed with 'em or ye'll come out as that feller did. D'ye think this town is too rough?"
"Not at all. It's just a lively town."
"Would ye go in fur hev'in' law and order?"
"No, sir. I should leave every man free to enjoy himself in his own way."
"Then ye are the kyote we are lookin' fur," he continued as he grasped my hand. "We want a new editor in place of that critter up thar. Jest ye go right down to the Eagle office and take possession, and I'll pass the hat around among the boys and rake in a few dollars."
"But I don't own the 'Eagle,' I protested.
"That don't make a bit of difference.
Jest walk in and make yerself to home and begin to run things. If ye hit it off with the boys ye'll be all O. K.;
if ye don't ye'll be hung in spite of gunpowder. Hump yerself along, and begin bizness."
"I humped," said the C. O. D. man.
"I entered the office to find two compositors who were half scared to death and who gladly welcomed me as editor and proprietor. The man who had accosted me on the street raised $100 in cash for me to go ahead on, and I flattered myself that I got out four very fair numbers. The fourth, unfortunately for me, contained an item to the effect that Bloody Hill, a rival town five miles away, was doing a little more shooting than our own. This was looked upon as a bit of flagrant disloyalty on my part, and I got out of town while a committee was looking for me with a noosed rope.

"My second and last editorial experience occurred two months later. I was tramping in Nevada and eating roots much oftener than meat when I headed for a mining town called Carson Flats.
I was within a mile of the town and sitting down to rest when along came about thirty men in a body. They were tough looking fellows, and the leader looked me over and asked:
"Say, young feller, why don't ye hang yerself?"
"Because I've no rope," I answered.
"What ye goin'?"
"Down to the Flats."
"What fur?"
"To hit a job on the Banner."
"Then ye are a newspaper galoot?"
"Something of one."
"The feller consulted with three or four of the others, and I was asked to come along to the Flats in their company. We had hardly reached the town when we came to a stop before the Banner office, and the leader and two of his crowd entered. In about two minutes they reappeared with the editor and proprietor, who had a rope around his neck and was somewhat perturbed. There were cries of "Hang him" from various individuals, but the boss waved his hand for silence and
said:
"All in reg'lar order, boys, and no hurry about it. This yer individual is the editor of the Banner. His paper seems to be all right fur this town of Carson Flats, what they are ready to put up with most anything in the literary line, but it don't satisfy us as ever at the 'Banner' and we are yer to give this kyote a chance—that is, he's got to git or hang, and I don't think we care which he does. What will it be, mister?"
"What fault do you find with my paper?" asked the editor, who was far cooler than would have been looked for.
"That ain't 'nuff whoop to it, and we don't believe ye are the right sort of critter to put the whoop in. Will ye travel and look for another place or will ye lay down yer cares and burdens here and now?

"I think I'll travel," slowly replied
the editor.
"Then be a-gittin'!"
"They gave him time to make up a bundle of clothes and then started him off, and when he had departed the boss turned to me with:
"Now, young feller, step in and take possession. We may hang ye inside of two weeks or ye may pull along fur
two or three months."

"Ten minutes later I was in full possession of the office and found enough
white paper to get out three issues.
The entire outfit, press and all, could have been packed on the back of a mule. I went to work with the aid of a boy and got out two fairly decent looking sheets, and as each copy sold for 50 cents spot cash it was better than mining. The second number had just been issued and I was patting my self on the back when about fifty men came marching up and halted in front of the office. Only one man came in, and he told me it was time for me to move on.
"What's wrong?" I asked.
"Oh, nuthin', only ye've got to git,
and git I did, and that ended my editorial experience and completed my dilapidation."
